

STYLIANOS SKIADAS

Lyric Tenor

ABOUT ME

I was born in Athens in 1998. At the age of seven, I began my studies in classical music, starting with piano lessons. Shortly thereafter, I was introduced to classical singing a form of artistic expression that I deeply loved and chose to pursue professionally.

A defining moment in my artistic journey was my admission to the Ilion Music School, where I ranked first in the entrance exams of 2011. Alongside my musical education, I pursued theological studies that have deeply shaped my worldview and overall approach to life.

I am a graduate of RHEMA Bible Training College, where I studied Christian theology, biblical teaching, and spiritual leadership.

As part of my formation, I had the great honor of attending leadership training courses under internationally renowned mentor John Maxwell, which significantly contributed to my development in responsibility, self-discipline, and value-driven leadership. Another major milestone was my graduation in 2021 from the Classical Singing class of the distinguished tenor Stamatis Beris at the Philippos Nakas Conservatory. I was evaluated by prominent figures of the international music scene, receiving the grade "Excellent Unanimously" and was awarded the First Prize with distinction.

I have further enriched my vocal training through lessons and masterclasses with Christina Giannakopoulou, Peter Edelmann, and Sebastian Vittucci. I am currently participating in the Academy of the Vienna State Opera Chorus.

Today, at 27 years old, through dedication, hard work, a profound love for classical music, and the invaluable support of remarkable individuals, I continue my artistic path with vision and consistency. At present, I collaborate as a tenor with the choirs of the Greek National Opera, the Hellenic Broadcasting Corporation (ERT), and the Musical Ensembles of the City of Athens.
